"Zach? The door, please?" she called through whiskers. Didn't Grams tell me once how the screen. "I emptied an old recipe box so much Gram hated it when he didn't have?

we can start our Memory Box," she said, handing me a treasure chest a pirate would love. "Now I'll leave my men alone."

It was Gramps's job to add photos and souvenirs to the Memory Box. He found a Gram moved the fastest I'd ever seen.

She sat on the ground beside Gramps while I ran back for his slippers. We helped him things about this past year—Gramps
